

3. Felipe II arrived in Madrid in 1561 after proclaiming it the capital of Spain, for reasons that to this day remain unknown.

4. The Plaza Mayor is one of Madrid's main tourist attractions. In the past it was the venue for royal festivities and games, bullfights and the Inquisition's heresy trials.